

Sponsoring a Scholar

Since 1973, when Chesebrough Ponds (now Unilever) generously sponsored the first Jackie Robinson Foundation Scholar, over 400 corporations, foundations and individuals have signed on to impact the future of leaders in America. JRF sponsors fund four-year financial scholarships and a premium Education and Leadership Development Program which is designed to help minority students make it through college and realize their fullest potential.

JRF Scholars go on to be leaders and ambassadors of Jackie Robinson's legacy. Our Scholars also proudly represent their sponsors and are living examples of the power of partnering with JRF.

Cost of Sponsorship

Sponsoring a Scholar is a four-year commitment of $60,000, which is payable in four annual installments of $15,000 or in a single payment.

Scholar Services

Your generous support pays for a program that is a national paradigm designed to prepare our Scholars to be competitors in a global economy, committed to community service, and capable of rising to the challenges of the 21st century. These comprehensive services include:

- A generous 4-year scholarship of up to $7,500 per year
- Scholar's participation at Networking Weekend
- Year-round mentoring services
- Career guidance and internship placement
- Leadership development
- Practical life skills training
- Podcasts, regional seminars and other yearly "touch-points"
- International fellowship opportunities

How to Sponsor

To sponsor a Scholar, please contact the Development Office:

New York City: (212) 290-8600

Los Angeles: (310) 595-3292

support@jackierobinson.org
